Agee Fears for Life

LONDON—Philip Agee, former CIA employee facing deportation from Britain, told reporters at his appeal against the order that his life could be in danger if he returned to the United States. Agee said he believes that his charges that the CIA tried to interfere in Jamaican elections was behind the deportation order. Agee denied any knowledge of whether British security forces were involved in the alleged interference.

Post 1-13-77